OFFICE ACTION

Response to Election

1. The election of claims 1-21, dated March 4, 2005, is acknowledged. Therefore, claims 22-38 are withdrawn for further consideration.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 (e) that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1 and 5-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by Rhodes.

a) Rhodes (US 2005/0023553) discloses a method of forming a contact in a pixel sensor cell
-depositing a passivation layer over a substrate having pixel components [¶ 0064];
-forming a slot or hole in the passivation layer in an area over a charge collection region of said pixel sensor cell;

-implanting a dopant at an angle relative to sidewalls of the slot through said slot into the charge collection region 326, wherein the dopant is implanted into the substrate at an energy of about 1KeV to 100 KeV [¶ 0061] at an angle of about 0 to 30° [¶ 0059] relative to the sidewalls;
-and forming a contact 32 within the slot [Figs. 15-16 and ¶ 0071].

b) In re claim 9, Rhodes indirectly suggests the dopant 188 being implanted at an implant depth of about 10 to 3000Å, which is the thickness of the insulating layer 121 [Fig. 9 and ¶ 0046].

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office Action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 2-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rhodes.

a) In re claims 2 and 3, Rhodes suggests the slot having a circle shape [Figs. 14-15] but not an oblong (or elliptical) shape.

It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to have the claimed slot shape, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a hole or slot. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art.

b) In re claim 4, Rhodes discloses a slot or hole in a passivation layer [¶ 0064] but is silent about an aspect ratio having a range of about 10:1 to 5:1.

It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to have the claimed aspect ratio, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a hole or slot. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 11-21 are allowed because the reference Rhode does not teaches forming a blocking layer extending over a portion of a charge collection region of a pixel sensor cell.
